New York, 20 Sept., 1862.

110

Dear Garrison,

If you consent, I think now that we will be off in the first days of October; but I may get information from Peacham to change this plan. Don't bind yourself to a Convention before the last of the month. Tilton will not hear a word of any compensation for looking after the Standard, and bids me be gone a month if I want to. Don't make any arrangements requiring you to be home in less than three weeks; let us have a good ramble

among the fine scenery of the Green Mountains.

Yours, truly,

L. J. Johnson.

C. J. N. Y., Sept. 20, 1862.